CONOMY! That's the keynote. Is it real? That's the question. Let us think it over for a moment: You know that Wanamaker merchandise is worthy-that if you find any cause for dissatisfaction, you can send the goods back and get the money you paid for them. You know, further, that we'd be foolish to send out wrong goods, except through mistake. And mistakes happen in all businesses where human help is a large factor.

New Cotton Dress Fabrics

Now, then. Admitting the fairness of these statements, we assert that regular prices at Wanamaker's are less than market rates for equal goods. To be sure, once-in-a-while somebody sells an item at a loss, "just to beat Wanamaker's." but the cases are merely as the one bird that doesn't make a summer.

And January prices on the stocks affected are less than our own regular low prices—some a fourth less; some a third; here and there as low as half the regular price.
